CULLUM PLEADS FOR MEMORIAL

Veteran Senator and Friend of Abraham Lincoln Hopes to See Work Started.

PERSONAL APPEAL IS MADE FOR MEASURE

Senators Asked to Support Proposition to Have the Statue Erected Here.

"I shall retire from the Senate on March 4 next, and am intensely desirous that work on the Lincoln memorial shall be commenced before that time."

"In my thirty years of service as a Senator, I have never made a personal appeal in behalf of any measure, but I feel like doing so in this case."

In the above brief statement Senator Shelby M. Cullum, personal friend of Abraham Lincoln, is asking Senators to support his resolution to approve the location for Washington recommended by the Lincoln Memorial Commission, upon which there is to be erected a $2,000,000 monument to the great work of art in honor of the memory of the great war President. The commission is headed by President Taft, and the other members are Senators Cullum and Wetmore, Speaker Clark, former Speaker Cannon, and Representative McCall.

The late Hernando C. Money of Mississippi was also a member, and the vacancy caused by his death has not been filled.

The commission had a great many meetings before a decision was reached and a recommendation made to Congress.

Design Is Accepted.

A majority finally voted to accept the design offered by Henry Bacon, of New York City, and to erect it upon what is known as the Potomac Park site.

Senator Cullum, who now ranks as "father of the Senate," says that he will press his resolution for approval by Congress of the commission's recommendation, and will submit a few remarks soon after Congress convenes next month.

He is in hopes that the Senate will not delay a vote. For more than a quarter of a century Senator Cullum has been working on the plan for a suitable Lincoln memorial.

He would love to round out his service by having final action taken. It is quite probable that the Lincoln highway from Washington to Gettysburg will be moved as a substitute for the recommendations of the commission. The highway has many strong supporters in both branches of Congress.

were placed at four and one-half feet and gradually raised until five feet five inches had been reached, and the horses took the leaps in graceful swoops and disappeared with a flourish amid the cheers of the lovers of horsemanship that packed the stands. The entrants in this event were from all the organizations of the post and were under command of Second Lieutenant E. M. Humberg. The mounts were all blue ribbon winners.

The programme ended with a musical saddle drill by Troop C, Capt. Warren Dean commanding, in which figure after figure was executed with kaleidoscopic quickness and ended with the "charge," the trumpets thundering from the end of the hall with a deal of whooping and pistol shooting fairly onto the noses of the President and his party, there to draw up in an unwavering line for the salute before vanishing in a whirl of earth and dust.

It was 1 o'clock when the last trooper dashed through the doors to the stables and President Taft arose to leave. With the first movement the guns outside took up the refrain of twenty-one thundering volleys again.

Debutantes Serve Refreshments.

The President, with Mrs. Taft and Maj. Rhoads, drove off past the guns to the White House, but the throng turned its steps toward the Hop Room for tea and cake.

Debutantes, dainty in lace aprons, were on every side with flowers, candy and appeals to buy, and hard-headed indeed was the man who left without a chrysanthemum or a box of sweets.

The fund raised is to be used for the aid and support of dependent widows and orphans of officers and enlisted men of the United States army, and the work was done under several committees, the chairman of which were: Mrs. W. C. Boardman, trustee; Mrs. Albert Miller, trustee; Mrs. Joseph Garrard, from the post; Mrs. Culver W. Wain, flower committee; Mrs. Charles W. Scott, candy committee; and Mrs. H. H. Gilman, cake committee.

In the President's box with President Taft were: Mrs. Oliver, wife of Assistant Secretary of War Oliver; Miss Marion Oliver, Maj. Rhoads, aid to President Taft; Mrs. Gen. Leonard Wood; Mrs. Gen. Witherspoon; Adm. Gen. and Mrs. Andrew; Mrs. A. L. Miller, Associate Justice and Mrs. Lorton, Col. Joseph Garrard, Gen. and Mrs. Stoneberg, and Mrs. E. H. Liscum, first vice president of the Relief Society.

Distinguished Guests Present.
Among others attending the drill and tea were: Mrs. Alshrine, Gen. and Mrs. Albert Miller, Gen. and Mrs. Garlington, Gen. and Mrs. Sternberg, Commissioner and Mrs. Judson, Mrs. Julian James, Gen. and Mrs. Gordon, Miss Ruth Blinn, Mrs. Hanna Taylor, Miss Childron, Mrs. Jewett, Capt. and Mrs. Mark Brooke, Mrs. Henry G. Sharpe, Mrs. Philip Smith, Mrs. William Carter, Mrs. Nelson Sheridan, Mrs. William Marshall, Mrs. S. H. M. Young, and Mrs. William C. Horner.

Among those who had charge of the booths at the tea were: C. T. Rust, in charge of the tickets, assisted by Mrs. William J. Eaden, Miss Marian Parker, and Miss Nancy Jones; candy booth, Mrs. Walcott, assisted by Mrs. D. Edwards and Mrs. Kane; flower booth, Mrs. DeWitt, assisted by Mrs. Judson, Mrs. W. T. Hale, Mrs. George Andrews, and Mrs. Gorey.

Among the debutantes of this year and other years who sold flowers and candy were Miss Babekah Wilmer, Miss Isabel Crosby, Miss Helen Wilson, Miss Leila Harrison, Miss Marie Newton, Miss Mildred Douglas, Miss Martha Calvo, Miss Marie Durant, Miss Ethel Norris, and Miss Kathleen Anderson.

Sentence Confirmed.
Trenton, N. J., Nov. 22.—The Supreme Court of New Jersey to-day affirmed the conviction of James J. Gallagher, who shot Mayor Gaynor of New York City, for assault upon Street Cleaning Commissioner Edwards, of New York, in connection with the attempt to kill the Mayor.

SENATOR RAYNER RALLIES SLIGHTLY; SINKS BACK INTO COMATOSE CONDITION

After regaining consciousness twice yesterday afternoon, during which he was given a little nourishment, and talked a few minutes with members of his family, Senator Isidor Rayner of Maryland, who is ill at his Washington residence, sank back into a stupor last night. His condition remains as desperate as it has been for the last three days.

William B. Rayner, son of the Senator, issued a brief bulletin last night in which he said his father's condition remained the same, notwithstanding the returning consciousness of the patient. At noon yesterday, after being in a state of coma for forty-eight hours, the Senator suddenly regained consciousness. His family gathered around his bed and he spoke a few words to them. He also partook of a little nourishment. A few minutes later he quietly sank back into a comatose condition, though not so deep as that of the two days before. Yesterday afternoon the Senator again aroused from the stupor for a few minutes.

FRIENDS SURE PRESIDENT WILL REFUSE PENSION

which alone would prevent him from accepting any offer of a Carnegie pension. While the President is said to have no definite political pretensions for 1916, there is a possibility that he again may be in the field. The likelihood therefore is that he would not care to subject himself to the possibility of having the Carnegie pension matter dragged into any future campaign.

Distasteful to Brother.

Furthermore, Mr. Taft's friends are certain that the idea of his accepting Mr. Carnegie's bounty would be distasteful to Charles P. Taft, his brother, who is a very wealthy man. Charles P. Taft testified before the Senate investigating committee that he had expended close to one million dollars in furthering the political interests of his brother.

One of the most outspoken in his opposition to the Carnegie plan is Representative Robert L. Henry of Texas, chairman of the House Rules Committee. "Do not think we need worry over the future of former Presidents," said he. "It is my opinion that a man who has occupied the office will never have difficulty in making a living for himself and family. Certain it is that if any relief is necessary it is the duty of the government, and not of a private individual or corporation, to provide it. I am not sure that the government should grant pensions in such cases. It is a debatable proposition."

Representative Burleson of Texas also disapproved of the Carnegie offer. "It is my opinion," said Mr. Burleson, "that the government should grant pensions to former Presidents."

Calls Proposition "Impudent."

Representatives Needham of California and Burke of South Dakota expressed similar sentiments. Senator Hoke Smith of Georgia called the Carnegie proposition "impudent."

Speaker Clark did not think it was worth talking about and Senator Gore of Oklahoma doubted whether a President who accepted such a pension would be entitled to the continued respect of the people.

"The scheme does not strike me very favorably," said Senator McComber of North Dakota. "Our former Presidents ought not to be dependent upon private charity. I advocate the passage of a bill to give them a life pension of $10,000 a year as paid commanders-in-chief of the army and navy."

"I don't see any objection to it in my great virtue," said Senator Sutherland of Utah, a Republican. "I think any man who is a public officer ought to work himself back into the citizenship when his term expires. The most wholesome thing for him is to go back into private life and support himself as other people."

Representative E. A. Hayes of California expressed the opinion that former Presidents to the United States should be made ex officio members of the United States Senate for life, with the salary of a Senator.

Reflection on Office.

"To provide for the employment of ex-Presidents in this manner," said Mr. Hayes, "would be much more dignified than for a private citizen to provide them support."

"In derogation of the high office" was the characterization by former Secretary of War Jacob Dickinson of the acceptance by a former President of the pension offered by Andrew Carnegie.

Senator Culberson of Texas, one of the floor leaders of the Senate, denounced the Carnegie pension plan. He said it not only was undignified, but undemocratic. The matter, he said, was taken up by Congress at the coming session, he added.

Representative Edwin T. Webb, of North Carolina, declared that he and Andrew Carnegie in proposing to pension former Presidents indicated that Carnegie thinks he is bigger than the government.

"I don't like the idea," said Representative Webb. "No man is bigger than the government, and Mr. Carnegie should not try to perform a service which ought to be performed by the government."

The general belief here is that President Taft will not wait until a pension is offered him before making public his views so far as he personally is concerned.

SHAPIRO GIVEN HIS RELEASE

Driver of New York Murder Car Joins Four Informers Who Went West.

New York, Nov. 22.—Having earned a dubious freedom by testifying against the four convicted gunmen whom he drove in an automobile to the scene of the Rosenthal murder, William Shapiro was released from the Tombs prison to-day. The trial of former Chamberlain Hyde was halted for twenty minutes while the proceedings were going on before Justice Goff. Shapiro promised District Attorney Whitman that he would appear whenever wanted, as did Rose, Webber, Vallon, and Schoppa.

That gangland will not be content to let the informers go unpunished for their act was clearly indicated to-day when threats were made against the life of Jack Rose and against the safety of his children. Mrs. Rose, at Avern, N. Y., received several telephone calls from persons who declared her two children would be kidnapped. Consequently, the children were provided with a bodyguard of two strong Swedish women. Threats against Rose were telephoned during the day to the office of his attorney. Rose, who is bald, is wearing a wig, and has applied to the police for a permit to carry a revolver.

Rose to-day received an offer of $5,000 for an option on the book he is writing about the underworld. Theatrical men are importing all four of the gamblers to men contracts from $200 up.

Sam Schoppa, who hid in Hot Springs, Ark., before his arrest, and who yesterday declared his intention of going back to his native land, received a telegram from Mayor W. W. Waters, of that city, declaring the messenger for the murder plotters was not wanted there, and he would be promptly escorted to the railroad station if he appeared in the city.

Jack Sullivan, the "king of the newsboys," is now the only one left out of the seven named in the blanket indictment for the Rosenthal murder whose case has yet to be disposed of.

COMMERCIAL CLUB ENTERTAINS.

Pocket Billiards and Lecture Features of Programme.

A match game of pocket billiards and a lecture on "Great American Boaters" were the chief features of entertainment at the meeting of the Commercial Club last night. The programme was in charge of Fred B. Lincoln, chairman of the entertainment committee.

The billiard game was between Frank Sherman, former champion and a member of the club, whose modesty regarding the score forbids the mention of his name. The match was for 15 points, and Mr. Sherman's competitor scored 42. After the game Mr. Sherman entertained the crowd for a short time with some exhibition shooting.

A picture by H. J. Blanchard, of the Reclamation Service, consisted of a series of excellent pictures of scenes taken on an imaginary journey from Southwestern Arizona to Los Angeles and through the mountain region, Yosemite and Yellowstone parks, on to Portland, Ore.

Mr. Blanchard said his main object in exhibiting the views and describing them to people in the East was to acquaint them with some of the beauties of their own country, and if possible to awaken an interest in the minds of tourists sufficient to turn the tide of summer travel from Europe to the West.

VERDICT AGAINST ART COMPANY

Mrs. Rose K. Hutchins Recovers $6,000 for Sale of Painting.

Mrs. Rose Keeling Hutchins was awarded a verdict for $6,000 by a jury in Justice Wright's court yesterday in her suit to recover $25,000 for the sale of a Clausenborough painting entitled "The Girl in the Brook," by the V. G. Fischer Art Company.

Mrs. Hutchins claimed her husband bought the painting in London in 1907, paying $2,000 to an Englishman who was in need of money, and presented it to her.

The painting, according to Mrs. Hutchins, was placed with an art company for restoration, and she alleges that the company sold it to Mrs. Clarence Moore for $20,000.

ARREST IN SHANKS CASE.

Willie Sacks Taken Into Custody by Capital Police.

On a warrant charging violation of section 95 of the District code relating to the "colonization of females under the age of sixteen," Willie Sacks, twenty-one years old, was arrested yesterday by Policemen W. C. Farnham, of the Seventh precinct, in connection with the investigation of the case of Arthur Shanks, the Roslyn pumping station engineer, now in jail in Alexandria. Sacks pleaded not guilty before United States Commissioner Anson E. Taylor, and in default of $5,000 bond, was turned over to the United States marshal.

Marie Merritt, the fourteen-year-old Georgetown girl, concerned in the Shanks case, and another girl fifteen years old, also of Georgetown, are mentioned in the complaint. Shanks will be given a preliminary hearing before United States Commissioner J. F. Garnett, November 29, in Alexandria.

Sab Counterfeitters.

Philadelphia, Nov. 22.—United States Secret Service agents raided an alleged counterfeiters' den at 912 Winter Street, this city, this afternoon. Several hundred counterfeit half dollars and a complete plant for making the coins were found. The Secret Service men say that hundreds of these counterfeit coins have been circulated recently through the Eastern part of the country.
